Planning a Bachelorette Spa Party

There's a lot to worry about when it comes to planning a wedding. If you are throwing the bride's bachelorette party, there are a few things to take care of before showing up at the spa.

Who to invite? Ask the bride who she would like to have at the bachelorette party. The bride may wish to have just all the bridesmaids, or she may wish to invite close family members or some out of towners. Matrix Spa & Massage can accommodate 7-10 people at a time that can unwind and enjoy the ambiance together.

Set a date for the spa party: The wedding date is set and you need to set the date for your bachelorette party at Matrix Spa & Massage. Consider doing the party the same time as the bachelor party or even the day before the wedding. Make sure to book ahead of time. For appointments during the week, usually a week's notice is sufficient. For appointments on Friday, Saturday or Sunday, it is recommended to book 2-4 weeks ahead of time.

Send invitations: Invitations should go out a few weeks before the confirmed spa party date. It is important to get RSVPs for the spa party. Click the image to check out this cute spa themed bachelorette party invitation. >>
